

Dear Bryan,

For anyone considering a builder for their new home or renovation of an existing home, we want you to know that we will always highly recommend Bryan Greene Construction. We searched extensively for the right builder for our project – someone who not only shared our vision for the perfect home in this beautiful mountain community but someone who could execute that vision into reality.

After interviewing a number of builders, we were surprised to learn how few actually possessed the perfect combination of expertise, integrity and attitude that would make our home come to fruition on time and on budget. Our construction project was extremely complex and most builders actually feared taking it on. Others were recognized immediately for their greed and self-interest taking precedence over our needs and expectations. Still others were noted for their lack of understanding for what our project entailed and what we personally required in communication during a long-distance builder/client relationship.

We were in a relatively desperate situation with our builder search until we found Bryan Greene Construction. We were immediately impressed with your genuine approach and ability to listen carefully to our needs and desires. We sensed that you were honest and that you placed our interests above yours. The advice you gave us in the early stages showed that you had the knowledge to pursue this project and that you were cost-conscious above all else.

Still we never knew what would happen until we took that leap of faith and actually got underway. That is when it was pleasantly confirmed that you were the real deal; that you walked your talk and even exceeded our admittedly high expectations. You've also clearly shown your business philosophy and value system by the people you've surrounded yourself with. We have not been disappointed in your choices.

While we've had the pleasure of working closely with you, we've been equally delighted in working with Carrie Hampton, your Project Manager and Jason Thompson, your contractor. These two individuals have both amused and amazed us with their abilities. Although you've always set the tone and took full accountability for our project, Carrie and Jason have been key figures that we've really enjoyed interacting with as our project progressed.

Carrie took her no-nonsense attitude to the job site and made sure everything was done timely and correctly. Her serious approach has only been exceeded by her incredible sense of humor. We quickly relied on her as "the voice" of our project as she not only kept us up to date on what's happening but also why it's happening. Carrie is a real person who really cares about her projects, but more importantly, she really cares about her clients.

Jason has consistently demonstrated himself as a leader with the construction crews and we've seen no finer example of quality execution. His crews epitomized his philosophy and integrity – they showed up on time, worked hard and treated our home as if it was their own. Total craftsmanship down to the smallest details has been their collective hallmark of excellence.

All of you as a team have on more than one occasion saved us from making mistakes with some of our ideas and concepts as to how things should be done - both in design and in expense. Having experienced other construction projects, we felt we were knowledgeable enough to "manage" our project but we quickly learned that it was unnecessary with the Bryan Greene team. In fact, we've often said that if we just got out of your way and showed up to see the finished project when you said it was done, we would not be disappointed. We now have a beautiful home that we're proud of and confident that it was constructed correctly and at the right price. You and your team also have become awesome friends throughout this process.

Please feel free to have anyone call us if they have questions or want more details about our experience with Bryan Greene Construction . . . or better yet invite them to come see the wonderful home that you and your team created for us.

Steve and Chris Warren
